Dates and Venue

The 9th International Conference of Anticancer Research will be held at the Porto Carras Grand Resort, Sithonia, Halkidiki, Greece, from 6 to 10 October, 2014.

General Policy

The purpose of the Anticancer Research Conferences is to exchange scientific information worldwide and to discuss recent advances in both broad and specialized areas of experimental and clinical cancer research. International Scientific and Medical Societies are invited to participate in the Conference by organizing specialized sessions. This initiative presents a forum for inter-Society communication allowing the organization and coordination of international activities on cancer.

The Conference is organized and supported by the International Institute of Anticancer Research.

The Scientific Program will comprise of oral (10, 15, 30 or 40 minutes) and poster presentations. Both overviews and original works will be presented. Each oral presentation will be allocated a five-minute discussion-time. Six conference rooms will be used simultaneously. Posters will be exhibited for 1-2 days. Sithonia

Sithonia, the central peninsula of Chalkidiki, is varnished with unique, virgin bays and plenty of serene and natural beaches. The place that hosted both Aristotle and Alexander the Great has succeeded in keeping a low profile in mass tourism campaigns and maintaining its cultural uniqueness and natural beauty. Situated right next to Thessaloniki, voted best of the world places by National Geographic, it dazzles the international traveler with an interminable list of archaeological sights of great magnitude. The museum of Vergina hosts immaculate gold treasures from the burial site of King Philip II, Alexander the Great's father. The ancient Kavala aqueduct, the ancient theatre of Filippoi, the archaeological areas of Vergina, Dion and Pella, and countless byzantine monuments and churches are only a few of the nearby sites that inspire a great historical time travel experience.

Weather

October is a very pleasant month in Sithonia, Greece. The average temperature is 24 °C (range 20-30 °C).
